On Motion 4 - If we are to make decisions that are student-centered, then we need to have students surveyed. We need their information to be equity-minded. A survey from May will not reflect the same responses for now. Now students are test-driving asynchrony we should be able to know what they think. Also our students taking online courses are not the traditional DE students. Most students were forced to take asynchronous courses in fall without consulting them. Can we avoid making assumptions on their behalf. I couldn't make these comments because of technical difficulties with my audio and chat. I apologize. Thank you!
