Books+	Rania disclosed that the campus need more info about the Books+ program. PD will be working with Follet and admin to create a pre-recorded video about it. Is DE-related as the program involves online books too. There is documentation about the process that has not been shared. Some have experienced difficulty in coordinating with the Bookstore, which Rania will help with. A meeting is happening next week with admin about this.	Rania will keep us posted on this resource for faculty and students.
Annual Strategic Plan: Committee Goals survey 1. Tie to measurable objectives 2. Aim for 3? 3. Report these to Senate	Group 1—Goal: Increase success rates of online classes A few measurable objectives: Orientation. An idea of what students are signing up for Student development class that students take. Not on same page if it's required to all

- students—it's not, just certain cohorts. Perhaps collaborating with couneseling more to integrate this education.
- Training faculty. Once students understand what they're signing up for they have a successful experience in the class.
- Coming up with best practices—1 page, short checklist. One for faculty, one for students.
- Jenn said a panel is being created with counselors and faculty in the same space that will answer questions for students and clarify communication.
- Rania pointed the pressure that's on students. Emailing announcements and tracking involvement

Group 2—Goal: Training Faculty

Measurable objectives:

- 100% compliance on training.
- Marketing campaign. Show faculty there's always something to learn. Help change the culture around training.
- Pre-and post survey
 when you sign up on what you know/don't quite know. Maybe align with OER, regular and effective communication, or other common items. Rank items. Should assess what they know.
- Testimonials from faculty on their experience.

	Blasts to take the training.
	Group 3— Goal: Collecting data on what students want, and how faculty can help them. Measurable objectives: Inclusive training component for our students. ASK THEM. Pre-module? Or 1-unit course? Or required orientation? Tying all this into data component. Also asking students what have been some of their challenges with online learning? What are they struggling with? What would they like to see in order to be more successful? Student survey early on in the year. Don't want one that's created by R&D. It's important for them to know what we're looking for. I.e. student success of online success. Or synchronous vs. Asynchronous vs. Asynchronous. But what we really want to look at are student success rates, can we make correlations with training and support and success rates? Engaging with institutional research a little bit more.	DE Leads will amalgamate work from this session into a presentation and report to the Academic Senate. DE Leads will use list of goals to build future agendas for this committee throughout the 2021-

access to Beta group courses. Also related, lots of changes have happened at the CVC. There was a resolution with the State Academic Senate at plenary surrounding shared local POCR. If faculty have an approved-course, they can now share that course with another faculty who is POCR-trained (have both had a course certified/approved). Could teach each other's course. An advisory committee has been formed to work through this. Equity & Engagement Training Coming this September. Davena and Maggie are currating from @One training materials, as well as resources from ACUE training they have taken/are currently taking. Announcements Maria talked about Library		I
